Open to everyone

Making sure your website is accessible means that everyone can find your products and services. The Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) form the standard by which accessibility is measured.

Accessibility issues discovered

A	ERROR	Ensure links have discernible text	Home page
A	ERROR	Ensure links have discernible text	Home page
A	ERROR	Ensure links have discernible text	Home page

What can I do to improve it?

Resolve the accessibility issues found on your website.

- Having an accessible website means that more people can find your products and services.
- In some parts of the world, businesses have a legal duty to comply with accessibility standards.

For performance reasons, we can only check the homepage in this analysis. It is also limited to the WCAG accessibility guidelines that can be checked with automated testing. For a complete picture, a manual audit should be conducted.

Alternative text

Some images on this business's website do not have a text equivalent.

Is everyone welcome?

Alternative text provides a description of each image on a website. This is used by visually impaired website visitors and search engines.

This website contains images that are used as links, with no alternative text provided.

- Images used as links must contain a text alternative as a fallback.
- If the image fails to load, visitors may not be able to see or click on the link.
- Visitors using assistive technology like a screen reader may not be able to visit the link at all.

This website contains images with alternative text tags that are not descriptive.

- Images must have descriptive alternative text in order to improve website quality.
- Alternative text should describe the content of the image, not just the image itself.
- Alternative text should not be intentionally too short.
- Descriptive alternative text improves accessibility for visually-impaired users.
- Descriptive alternative text also improves SEO for a website.

What can I do to improve it?

Make sure every image on your website has an appropriate text alternative.

- Alternative text helps visually impaired users understand what is on-screen. Websites that omit it may be in violation of disability legislation in some countries.
- Alternative text can have a positive impact on a website's SEO.

Reading ease

This website has an average reading difficulty.

📱 /contact/	13.8 years old
📱 /product_category/gate-hardware/	17.0 years old
📱 /about/	17.0 years old

What can I do to improve it?

Consider rewriting your website content to make it easier to read.

- Consider using shorter sentences and paragraphs, as well as removing technical jargon.
- Attaining a lower reading age means that more people will be able to understand your website.
- The ideal reading age will be different for each website, depending on its target audience. Websites with a niche target audience should expect a higher reading age.
- Simple, readable content makes it easier for both people and AI to understand what your website offers.

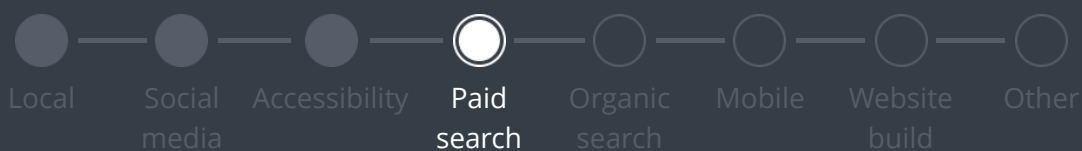

The check is calculated using a readability formula suited to the language of each page. Consider your target audience when deciding on an appropriate reading age for your website.

These are terms you rank for today, but in a low position. Some may be worth optimizing, while others may be competitor-related or only loosely relevant

What can I do to improve it?

Consider search engine optimization (SEO).

- SEO can bring you significantly more organic traffic.
- Generally SEO requires that you build up your content, links and the quality of your website.
- SEO takes time, but once the initial investment is made you can get more visitors for free.

Source: SEMRUSH

Analysis covers CA traffic only. Traffic is estimated by a 3rd party source using a sample of search engine results. Subdomains and websites with very low volumes of traffic are less likely to be detected.

Build your content

Websites with a good volume of quality content are likely to rank higher in search engines.

We only count words that are visible on the page when it first loads. Words that are revealed after a user interacts with the page (e.g. in drop-downs or pop-ups) won't be counted.

What can I do to improve it?

Add more content to your website.

- Google may penalize websites with too little content by placing them lower in search results.
- Relevant content will help attract and engage visitors.

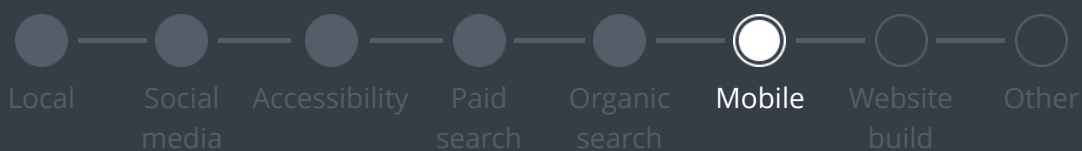

Content is measured by looking at a limited section of this business's website. Websites built with Flash or other non-standard technologies may contain content that cannot be measured by us.

Mobile

These are the checks contained within this segment of your audit:

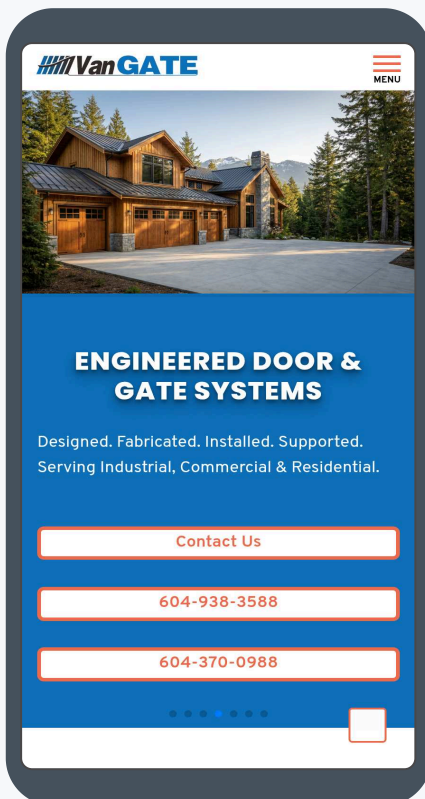

Mobile

Mobile

This website appears to be optimized for mobile phones.

Fits screen width

A mobile site should be free of horizontal scroll to avoid confusing users.

Has legible text

Text should be big enough to read on a mobile, without the need to zoom in.

Links are big enough to tap

Links on a website should be large enough to tap on a typical mobile screen.

Same content on mobile

Ideally websites should adapt to the screen size of the user's device, rather than loading separate HTML or redirecting to a separate mobile website.

Viewport is set

By setting the viewport, the website will load at a comfortable size.

We load the homepage for this website in a simulated smartphone, and then perform an analysis on the resulting code of the webpage. Some unusual websites can confuse this analysis. If in doubt, consult the screenshots above to determine if they look mobile-friendly.

What can I do to improve it?

Keep this website up-to-date.

- Stale websites may appear lower in Google search results.
- Out of date content can discourage visitors from trusting your website.
- Keeping content up to date helps AI know it's relevant and trustworthy - fresh content is more likely to be featured in answers and search results.

We use a wide range of methods to determine the likely last-updated date of this website, including technical indicators and machine-readable dates within the text we have analyzed on the website. This gives us a best approximate for when a website was updated, but we cannot know for certain. Some websites cannot be dated at all.

Broken links

This business's website does not appear to contain any broken links.

Point to the right place

If you link to a webpage that is later removed, this creates a broken link that will confuse your website visitors.

Only the first 50 links encountered on the business's website were checked.

X (formerly Twitter)

We couldn't find this business's X (formerly Twitter) account. There may be one, but if we can't find it, it's likely real customers can't either.

Build up a following

X accounts are a popular way of engaging with customers and prospects online. Businesses can run promotions and interact with their customers via X.

What can I do to improve it?

Consider using an X (formerly Twitter) account to interact with your customers.

- X is the 11th most popular website in the world.
- 23% of adults with internet access use X.
- Over 100 million people use X every day.

We looked at the website for this business and did not find a valid link to an X. If the business has an X account but it is not linked to from their website we are not able to detect it.

Ecommerce

We were not able to detect a recognized ecommerce solution on this business's website.

Sell online

With an ecommerce website you can sell your products online and reach a wider audience.

What can I do to improve it?

If appropriate, consider getting an ecommerce enabled website.

- Selling online can increase sales while reducing your cost base.
- Online shopping is growing and currently accounts for 18% of consumer spending in the UK.
- 37% of people aged 30-39 store online at least once per week.

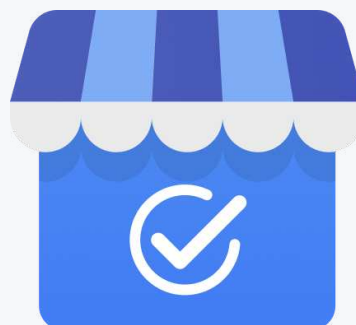

Google Business Profile

There was no Google Business Profile listing found for this business

Be visible to your audience

A Google Business Profile page appears on the right hand side when potential customers are searching for your business.

What can I do to improve it?

Ensure your business is listed on Google Business Profile.

- Having a Google Business Profile listing is very important for helping potential customers find your website.
- Not having a listing will harm the amount of traffic your website receives, and potentially give an advantage to your competitors.

Headings

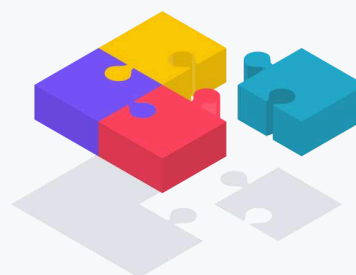

This business's website uses mostly well defined headings.

Heading		Found on
H1	Missing H1	Home page	✗
↳ H4	Menu Hidden on the page Out of hierarchy	Home page	✗
↳ H2	ENGINEERING & MANUFACTURING CAPABILITIES	Home page	✓
↳ H2	PROVEN EXPERIENCE. CONSISTENT RESULTS.	Home page	✓
↳ H3	What Our Clients Are Saying...	Home page	✓

Structure your website content

Well defined headings help users and search engines understand and prioritise your website content.

This business's website should have one top-level heading on every page

- To optimize search ranking it is recommended to have only one top level heading per page.
- A top-level heading should describe the content of that page.

What can I do to improve it?

Ensure headings are well defined throughout your website.

- Make sure keywords you want to rank for are mentioned in your headings.
- Headings should be used in the correct hierarchy, starting with a top level heading (H1).
- Each page can contain multiple subheadings (H2-H6), but should only include one main heading (H1).

This business's website does not have unique titles and descriptions on each page.

Gate Manufacturing & Automation Company - VanGATE

<https://vangate.ca/>

VanGATE is a gate manufacturing and automation company that specializes in both commercial and residential gates. Get in touch with us today!

This is how the business's homepage will appear on a search engine result page.

Control your search listing

Your website's title and description are displayed by search engines and when the website is shared on social media.

Some pages of this business's website do not have a unique meta description.

- Without a meta description, search engines will select a snippet of text from the web page to display. This business is missing an opportunity to select the text that appears in search results.

What can I do to improve it?

Add unique page titles and meta descriptions to your website.

- The title and description are crucial in setting your website apart in search results.
- Don't include the same title and description on every page as search engines penalize duplicate content.

The length limits used for titles and descriptions in this test are intended to be used as a guideline only. It is recommended that human judgement should be used to verify whether a long title or description is appropriate.

SSL

This business's website is using SSL, however it is not configured to use HSTS.

Encrypt everything

SSL ensures that information flowing to and from your website visitors is kept secure.

Although this business's website uses SSL, it is not configured to use HSTS.

- HTTP Strict Transport Security (HSTS) helps to protect websites against man-in-the-middle attacks.
- Web browsers should interact with the website using secure connections.

A valid and up-to-date sitemap was found for the business's website.

Help search engines find you

A sitemap tells search engines about the content that you have on your site and how often it's updated.

Snapchat

We could not find a Snapchat account for this business. There may be one, but if we can't find it, it's likely real customers can't either.

Connect with a new audience

Snapchat is a great way to connect with a younger, fashion conscious audience. 45% of Snapchat users are between 18 and 24.

What can I do to improve it?

Consider using a Snapchat account to interact with your customers.

- Snapchat is popular with younger audiences.
- Snapchat is used by 90% of all 13-24 year-olds in the US.
- Over 190 million people use Snapchat every day.

We are only able to detect an business's Snapchat account if it is linked to from their website in one of the pages we analyze as part of our report.
